

WELCOME ADDRESS

Glory, Glory, Glory be to our God for the new month, May 2024.

So glad we are here together for Christ and for all youths in the world for Christ again- John 3:16.

“Our Vision remains the same: to see all youths having good success and prosperity in their spiritual, ministerial, educational, occupational, financial, marital and sociocultural areas of life.”

TRUE VALUE
By Champion Grace.I.Harrison

Once upon a time, in a bustling town by the sea, there lived a young fisherman named Leo. Leo spent his days out on the water, casting his net in hopes of catching a bountiful harvest.

One stormy evening, as Leo was preparing to head home, he spotted something glimmering in the distance. Curious, he steered his boat towards the shimmering light and discovered a magnificent golden fish trapped in his net.

As Leo gazed at the fish in awe, it spoke to him in a gentle voice. "Please, kind fisherman, set me free," it pleaded. "In return, I will grant you three wishes."

Leo hesitated for a moment, his mind racing with possibilities. But then, he remembered the lessons taught to him by his parents - the importance of kindness and generosity.

"I cannot keep you imprisoned," Leo said firmly, releasing the golden fish back into the sea. "But thank you for your offer."

The golden fish shimmered with gratitude before disappearing beneath the waves.

Days turned into weeks, and Leo continued his life as a fisherman. Despite his humble existence, he found joy in the simple pleasures of the sea - the sound of the waves, the warmth of the sun, and the laughter of his friends.

One day, while out on the water, Leo's boat capsized in a sudden storm. Struggling to stay afloat, he thought all hope was lost. But then, out of nowhere, the golden fish appeared, guiding him safely back to shore.

TRUE VALUE

By Champion Grace.I.Harrison

Grateful for his second chance at life, Leo vowed to live each day with purpose and gratitude. He realized that true wealth was not measured by material possessions, but by the richness of one's experiences and the love in one's heart.

And so, the people of the town learned from Leo's story that true happiness comes from acts of kindness, gratitude, and living life with an open heart.

PRAYERS

By Champion Success C. Ike

1. Protection: Lord we ask that you protect every member of CYC from harm, violence, and exploitation. Psalm 121:7-8 says, "The Lord will keep you from all harm– He will watch over your life; the Lord will watch over your coming and going both now and forevermore."

2. Employment: Dear Father, we ask for opportunities for employment and financial security for CYC Members globally. Proverbs 16:3: "Commit to the LORD whatever you do, and he will establish your plans."

3. Guidance: Lord please grant CYC members the wisdom to make godly choices and be led by you. James 1:5

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

By Champion Carlos Ebube Okpe

GLORIOUS CHAMPIONS,♥

Welcome to the month of May. It is my prayer that the lines will fall to you in pleasant places. May God keep us and bless the works of our hands in the mighty name of Jesus, Amen!

As we step into the month of May, I am reminded of the paramount importance of establishing a strong covenant with God. By entering into a covenantal relationship with God, we can access God's abundant favor and protection, just as Isaac did through the covenant his father Abraham initiated.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH CONTDBy Champion Carlos Ebube Okpe

Genesis 17:7 says, "I will establish my covenant as an everlasting covenant between me and you and your descendants after you for generations to come, to be your God and the God of your descendants after you. A covenant is a binding agreement between two or more parties, often with a promise to redeem when due or necessary. For example, David and Jonathan struck a covenant (1 Samuel 20:16 "so Jonathan made a covenant with the house of David, saying, let the LORD require it at the hand of David's enemies."). The contents and details of this covenant unfolded and was actualized in 2 Samuel. 9:1 when years after, David asked, "is there still anyone who is left in the house of Saul, that I may show him kindness for Jonathan's sake?" Covenants carry weight and their terms are often honoured for the good of all parties involved. Hence, it was uppermost in the mind of David to enforce it at the appointed time in the life of Mephibosheth. Covenants speak volumes and if there is anything we want to gloss over or toy within this life, covenants should not be it.

By committing ourselves to God through covenant, we invite His presence, guidance, and provision into every aspect of our lives. Psalm 25:14 assures us, "The LORD confides in those who fear him; he makes his covenant known to them." Through our reverence and obedience, we become recipients of God's intimate revelations and blessings.

"Moreover, establishing a covenant with God empowers us to overcome adversity and opposition. Just as Isaac experienced divine protection and prosperity amidst persecution, so too can we navigate life's challenges with confidence in God's unwavering faithfulness. Isaiah 54:17 declares, "No weapon forged against you will prevail, and you will refute every tongue that accuses you. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, and this is their vindication from me."

By the grace of God our Online missionaries project has just kickstarted for which we are trusting God for a mighty harvest of souls through the campaign. So, I ask that you pray for us and pray for CYC. We need you! I wish to commend the many chapters for consistently hosting their meetings/gatherings despite the circumstances which may be prevailing in their respective areas. I also wish to once again extend my gratitude to all members providing themselves as vessels to be used by the Father in these times, may God Bless you all.

THANKS, Yours in Christ
